Report on Webinar on Covid -19 Pandemic: Role of NSS Volunteers

Deshabandhu Mahavidyalaya organized a webinar focusing on the critical role of the National Service Scheme (NSS) in addressing the challenges posed by the COVID-19 pandemic. The webinar aimed to enlighten participants about the responsibilities of youth and the leadership traits required to tackle the post-COVID situation effectively. The event witnessed enthusiastic participation from students, faculty, and NSS volunteers from different organisations.

The webinar commenced with an introductory session by Dr. Sagar Chandra Bandyopadhyay, Teacher in charge of Deshabandhu Mahavidyalaya. Dr. Bandyopadhyay provided an overview of the webinar's agenda, setting the tone for the subsequent discussions. Following this, Prof. Biplob Chowdhury, Associate Professor of Commerce at Deshabandhu Mahavidyalaya, delivered a thought-provoking speech on "COVID-19 & Responsibility of Youth: The NSS Paradigm." Prof. Chowdhury emphasized the pivotal role of NSS in empowering youth to actively contribute to society's well-being during the pandemic. Next, Prof. Arunava Banerjee, Assistant Professor of Political Science at Bankura Christian College, addressed the audience on the topic "Leadership Traits: Role of NSS leaders to tackle the post-COVID situation." Prof. Banerjee highlighted the essential leadership qualities required for NSS leaders to navigate through the challenges arising in the aftermath of the pandemic. Dr. UjjwalKanti Roy, Associate Professor of Chemistry & NSS Coordinator at KaziNazrul University, shed light on "The Role of NSS Volunteers during the COVID-19 situation." Dr. Roy discussed the significant contributions of NSS volunteers in various relief activities and community service initiatives aimed at combating the pandemic. Prof. Atul Ch. Biswas, Assistant Professor of the Department of Political Science & Member of NSS Advisory Committee at Bangabasi Morning College, delivered an insightful speech on "COVID-19: Changing Behavior of Society and the Role of NSS." Prof. Biswas elaborated on the evolving societal dynamics amidst the pandemic and the crucial role played by NSS in promoting behavioural changes and awareness. Dr. SekharSil, Associate Professor of Political Science at Bankura University, concluded the series of speeches with a discussion on "The Issue of Socio-Economic Reconstruction: The Challenge before the National Service Scheme in the Post-Pandemic World." Dr. Sil emphasized the need for NSS initiatives in facilitating socio-economic reconstruction and addressing the challenges posed by the pandemic.

The webinar also included an interactive session where participants had the opportunity to engage with the speakers, ask questions, and share their insights and experiences related to the theme. The event concluded with a vote of thanks extended by Prof. Braja Gopal Goswami, Associate Professor of Philosophy at Deshabandhu Mahavidyalaya, expressing gratitude to all participants, speakers, and organizers for their valuable contributions. Prof. TirthaMondal, the convenor of the webinar, played a pivotal role in orchestrating the event and ensuring its success. His dedication and leadership were instrumental in bringing together experts and enthusiasts to discuss and deliberate on the role of NSS in combating the COVID-19 pandemic and its aftermath.
